Intraday Thoughts – MYR Bearish

USD/MYR opened 0.04% marginally higher at 4.3505 and continued to rally two big figures, trading at 4.3743 at time of writing. MYR outlook is bearish today on the back of strong rebound in the USD amid broad market selloffs amid renewed concerns over stagflation, geopolitical risks and China's Covid uncertainties. Market jitters ahead of tonight's US nonfarm job report and selling pressure ahead of the weekend will also work against the MYR.

1-Month Outlook – MYR Neutral

We expect the MYR to recover some lost ground in the medium term; supported by further economic recovery as the government reopened the Malaysian border on 1st April. Recent rally in global commodity prices coupled with increase in minimum wage to RM1,500 effective 1st May should provide an added impetus along with the advantage of elevated oil prices. We have taken into account the broader USD which is expected to stay firm supported by safe haven demand, Fed rate hike expectations and economic outperformance in the US vis-à-vis other majors. On the flipside, the Russia-Ukraine crisis could potentially derail recovery and policy normalization path.

MYR Crosses

SGD/MYR

SGD/MYR Neutral to Slightly Bearish

SGD/MYR opened 0.48% lower at 3.1415 but has since pared losses and traded higher at 3.1514 at time of writing. Daily outlook for the pair is neutral to slightly bearish given the lower opening. Both the SGD and MYR will take the hit from renewed USD strength. In the medium-term, MYR may still be biased towards the weaker side relative to SGD amid more rapid policy tightening by MAS.

GBP/MYR

GBP/MYR Bearish

GBP/MYR opened 1.48% lower at 5.3762 following the overnight steep losses in the sterling but has since rebounded to 5.3983 at time of writing as MYR weakness gained traction. Daily GBP/MYR outlook is bearish given the lower opening although the pair may see narrowing losses going into European session as the GBP is expected to see some correction after yesterday's hefty decline.

GBP/MYR	5.3500	5.3744	5.3983	5.4374	5.4600

AUD/MYR

AUD/MYR Bearish

AUD/MYR opened 1.33% lower at 3.0961 and is currently trading slightly higher in the 3.10 handle. Daily outlook is bearish following the sharply lower opening. However, downside will likely be capped at the 3.10 region as the AUD/USD was seen holding up relatively steady at the 0.70-0.71 handles. This morning's RBA monetary policy statement expressing the need for further rate hike, expected at 1.75% by year end and 2.50% end-2023 appeared to have little impact on Aussie.

AUD/MYR	3.0850	3.0964	3.1091	3.1111	3.1188
