PART D: RISK DISCLOSURE

17. Preamble

- 17.1 Customers who transact in Structured Products with or through the Bank should be aware of the risks which may be involved in such transactions. The objective of these disclosures is to highlight the risks pertinent to the transactions in this particular product to assist the Customer in making an informed assessment of the suitability of the product to their financial resources, experience, investment needs and risk profile prior to transacting. The risk of loss, in all instances, may be substantial.
- 17.2 The disclosures cannot be used and are not sufficient to explain all the risks and other significant aspects of entering into Structured Products. The Customer should therefore fully understand the nature of the transaction, the nature and scope of the contractual relationship between the Customer and the Bank, the legal terms and conditions in the transaction documents, the extent of the Customer's risk exposure and the potential losses that can be incurred, and the tax, accounting and regulatory treatment of the product. The disclosures cannot be construed as financial advice provided by the Bank. Instead, the Customer should seek advice from a professional adviser prior to entering into transactions if the Customer has any doubts regarding any aspect of the product/transaction.
- 17.3 Structured Products are not treated as bank deposits for the purposes of deposit insurance, and will not be subject to deposit insurance protection in the jurisdictions in which they are offered.

18. Price / Return Risk

- 18.1 Structured Products can be volatile instruments and may be subject to considerable fluctuations in value. The value of a Structured Product may fall as rapidly as it may rise due to numerous factors, including, but not limited to macroeconomic conditions, systematic risks, variations in the frequency and magnitude of changes in interest / profit rates and the price / level of any underlying reference instrument to which the Structured Product relates (e.g., securities, commodities, funds, rates and/or indices).
- 18.2 Potential return on Structured Products may be less than returns on other investments regardless of whether they are more or less volatile. It is possible that the Customer may receive no return for the entire tenor of the investment.
- 18.3 Structured Products may not be principal protected and it is therefore possible that the redemption proceeds for such products at maturity are lower than the initial principal, resulting in losses to the Customer. In the worst-case scenario, there is a possibility that, at maturity, the Customer will not receive any of the Principal Amount invested.

19. Credit Risk

- 19.1 The Customer should be aware that receipt of any sums due at maturity by the Customer is subject to the credit risk of the issuer of the Structured Product ("Issuer"). The Customer faces the risk that Issuers will not be able to satisfy their obligations. Except where specifically provided otherwise, Structured Products will constitute general and unsecured contractual obligations of Issuers and such obligations will rank equally with other unsecured contractual obligations of Issuers. Structured Products will also rank pari passu with subsequent unsecured obligations of the Issuer. In the case of an insolvency of the Issuer, preferred liabilities of the Issuer will have priority over unsecured obligations such as Structured Products. Any stated credit rating of the Issuer reflects the independent opinion of the referenced rating agency as to the creditworthiness of the rated entity but is not a guarantee of credit quality of the Issuer. Any downgrading of the credit ratings of the Issuer or its parent or affiliates, by any rating agency could result in a reduction in the value of Structured Products. In the event that bankruptcy proceedings or composition, scheme of arrangement or similar proceedings to avert bankruptcy are instituted by or against the Issuer, the payment of sums due on Structured Products may be substantially reduced or delayed.

20. Foreign Exchange Risk

- 20.1 The Customer should be aware that the profit or loss in transactions in foreign currency-denominated contracts (whether they are traded in the Customer's or another jurisdiction) will be affected by fluctuations in currency rates where there is a need to convert from the currency denomination of the contract to another currency. The potential for profit or loss from transactions on foreign markets or in foreign currency-denominated contracts will be affected by fluctuations in foreign exchange rates.

21. Liquidity Risk

- 21.1 The Customer may not be able to liquidate or sell some or all of his investment in Structured Products as and when the Customer requires or at an amount equal to or more than the principal. There are no active or liquid secondary trading markets for these Structured Products as they are not traded on any regulated markets or listed on any exchange. There can be no assurance that any the Customer will be able to obtain a firm bid price for the Structured Products for an amount at which they wish to sell. Therefore, these Structured Products may not be marketable and as such may not be able to be liquidated or sold before maturity, or if liquidated/sold, may only realise an amount that is at a significant discount to the Principal Amount paid by the Customer. Liquidity on these investments is relatively less than similar grade non-structured fixed coupon bonds. Mark to market valuations on Structured Products may not be available or provided to the Customer on any regular basis prior to maturity.

22. Tax Risk

- 22.1 Income or profit from any investments made by the Customer may be subject to withholding tax, capital gains tax or other taxes imposed by the country in which the investment was made or issued. Taxation may lead to a reduction in principal amounts and/or profit.

23. Early Termination / Withdrawal Risk

- 23.1 The Customer must hold his investment in Structured Products until maturity to benefit from receiving the Principal Amount invested. Unless otherwise specified, receipt of the Principal Amount invested at maturity does not apply if the Structured Product is prematurely terminated by the Issuer before the maturity date.
- 23.2 In the event of such early termination, the market value of Structured Products may be substantially less than the Customer's initial investment. Additionally, the Customer should be aware that, as may be described in detailed Offer Documents, Issuers may, at their discretion, redeem or terminate Structured Products prior to maturity upon notice to the Customer under a variety of conditions and/or circumstances, which may include, where the Bank determines that at any time, by reason of any event or circumstances it is, or may be, impossible to make a reliable determination of the reference value of the Underlying Financial Instrument.
- 23.3 The Customer should note that Issuers may, with the provision of irrevocable notice to the Customer in accordance with the relevant terms and conditions, redeem all outstanding units of the Structured Product on a date specified in such notice. Issuers are typically authorised to do so if there have been changes in relevant laws or regulations that Issuers consider to be materially onerous to comply with in respect of the Structured Product.

24. Sovereign Risk

- 24.1 In the event any of the underlying referenced link / asset / security is issued by a sovereign or governmental entity or quasi-governmental entity, repayment / payment of Structured Products and applicable coupon or interest / profit may be subject to sovereign risks. This includes the potential default by such sovereign, government/quasi government issuer or the occurrence of political or economic events resulting in governmental action such as declaration of a moratorium on debt repayment / payment or negating repayment / payment obligations of the sovereign issuer. If any such event were to occur, the Customer may lose up to all of their initial investment in Structured Products.

25. Legal Risk

- 25.1 In investing in Structured Products through the Bank, the Customer should ensure that it is not in breach of any laws, regulations, contractual or other legal limitations that would otherwise prevent the Customer from entering into such investment. The Customer should be aware that the Bank is, in respect of any Structured Product, subject to applicable laws, regulations and guidelines issued by regulatory authorities in the relevant jurisdiction. In the event of any change in such laws, regulations or guidelines, the Bank may be required to alter some or all of the terms and conditions of the Structured Product or forced to impose early termination on the Customer.

16. Risk of Foreign Markets

- 16.1 Foreign markets may involve different risks to the markets in the Customer's Jurisdiction. For example, investments made in an asset or issued by a party subject to foreign laws, receipt of profits and/or recovery of the sums invested may be reduced, delayed or prevented by measures imposed by foreign governments or other official bodies. Other risks include lower levels of investor protection measures and disclosure standards in foreign countries. In some countries, these risks will be greater than in others, and the local regulatory authority may not be able to compel the enforcement of the laws and rules of other jurisdictions where transactions have been effected. The Customer should be familiar with the rules governing transactions in foreign markets prior to investing in such market
- 16.2 In some countries, legal concepts which are practiced in mature legal systems may not be in place or may have yet to be tested in courts. This would make it more difficult to predict with a degree of certainty the outcome of judicial proceedings or even the quantum of damages which may be awarded following a successful claim.

17. Liquidity Risk

- 17.1 Under certain market conditions, it may be difficult or impossible to liquidate a position. This can occur, for example, when the market makes a "limit move" or trading is suspended by the relevant exchange, in addition, there may not be a ready market for certain investments or market traders may not be prepared to deal in certain investments leading to difficulties in liquidation.

18. Tax Risk

- 18.1 Income or profit from any investments made by the Customer may be subject to withholding tax, capital gains tax or other taxes imposed by the country in which the investment was made or issued. Taxation may lead to a reduction in principal amounts and/or profit.

19. Fund Management Risk

The selection of securities of a fund/placement of cash/deposits which make up the assets of the fund is a subjective process and depends on the expertise of a fund manager in carrying out the investment management function of a fund. The securities selected/deposits placed by the fund manager may perform better or worse than the overall market, or as compared to portfolios of a similar mandate.

20. Non-Compliance Risk

Risk arises from non-conformance with applicable laws, rules, regulations and deeds by the manager or its fund management delegate. The possibility of a breakdown in the manager's or the fund management delegate's prescribed practices and internal policies and procedures may have an impact on the fund's net asset value.

21. Loan Financing Risk

If a loan is obtained to finance the purchases of units of any unit trust funds, Customers will need to understand that borrowing increases the magnitude for gains or losses. Hence, the risk of using loan financing should be carefully assessed.

PART C: TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. General

- 1.1 The Bank may (but is not obliged to) provide all or any of the following services to the Customer in connection with Equity and/or Debt Securities:
- (a) to purchase or subscribe any Equity and/or Debt Securities in accordance with Instructions following receipt of the funds required for such purpose;
 - (b) to sell or otherwise dispose of Equity and/or Debt Securities and to deal with the proceeds and to enter into any agreement or instrument on behalf of the Customer in connection with Equity and/or Debt Securities, in each case either in accordance with Instructions or pursuant to provisions of this Schedule 4;
 - (c) to deliver the documents of title and any other instruments relating to Equity and/or Debt Securities to the Customer or to the order of the Customer; and
 - (d) to provide such other services as the Bank may from time to time offer and which the Customer accepts or requests.
- 1.2 The Bank undertakes to notify the Customer of any material changes to the nature of services provided hereunder, fees and charges, changes in the name and address where the Bank carries out its business, or its registration status with the relevant regulatory bodies, in such manner and form as the Bank in its discretion deems fit.
- 1.3 It should be noted that the Equity and/or Debt Securities are issued by the issuers and accordingly, the issuers (and not the Bank) will be liable for all obligations and liabilities under and in respect of the Equity and/or Debt Securities. Unless otherwise disclosed to the Customer, the Bank will act as agent and not as principal in relation to any transaction made between the Bank and the Customer in connection with Equity and/or Debt Securities.
- 1.4 The Customer may instruct the Bank to buy and sell Equity and/or Debt Securities on behalf of the Customer. The Customer must place all Sell Orders and all Buy Orders in accordance with this schedule.
- 1.5 The Customer represents that the Customer has met the minimum regulatory requirements to be allowed to buy or sell Equity and/or Debt Securities.

- 1.6 If the Customer wishes to amend or cancel an Order, the Customer must do so only by giving specific Instructions to the Bank for the amendment or cancellation of that Order. In the event that part of the Customer's Order is executed prior to the amendment or cancellation Instruction being effected, the Customer will be liable to settle the partially executed Order.
- 1.7 Unless the Bank agrees to the contrary or the Customer gives specific Instructions to the Bank, the Customer acknowledges that each Instruction may be treated by the Bank as good for the day only and as lapsed at the end of the official trading day of the relevant exchange.
- 1.8 Each transaction made or entered into by the Bank on behalf of the Customer shall be subject to the constitution, rules, regulations, customs, usages, rulings and interpretations from time to time in force of the relevant exchange and clearing house through which the transaction is conducted and any other authority having jurisdiction and to the applicable laws and regulations in the jurisdiction where the transaction takes place. The Customer will not place Orders that will breach, or are likely to cause the Bank or any Agent to breach, any of the Participant Rules, the Clearing and Settlement Rules, or any other rule, regulation or law which is binding on the Customer, the Bank or any Agent, including, without limitation, rules, regulations or laws relating to insider trading, market manipulation or similar conduct.
- 1.9 The Customer must, immediately upon receipt of a Confirmation from the Bank, check the details on the Confirmation and advise the Bank immediately of any errors or omissions.

2. Brokerage, Fees and Charges

- 2.1 The Customer agrees:
- (a) to pay all Fees and all other applicable Taxes, duty, levy, expenses, costs and charges payable by the Customer under this Schedule 4 and in connection with transactions effected for the Customer, the custody service and any fees and interest charged under Clause 2.2 of this Schedule 4;
 - (b) that it will incur foreign exchange charges and other fees on all transactions under this schedule that requires funds to be converted to or from the currency specified by the Bank; and
 - (c) that such amounts will be deducted from the Settlement Account by direct debit or by deduction from Equity and/or Debt Securities sale proceeds, as the case may be.
- 2.2 Where any amount owing from the Customer to the Bank is overdue, the Bank may at its option charge the Customer an administration fee to cover incidental costs that result or that are incurred in recovering this amount and may charge interest in accordance with Clause 11 of this Agreement.

3. Customer Liability

- 3.1 The Customer will, on demand, hold the Bank and its affiliates harmless from and against any and all losses, costs, claims, damages, penalties, fines, expenses and liabilities which the Bank and their respective affiliates may incur or suffer as a result of or in connection with this Schedule 4 due to the Customer's act, omission or instructions, including as a result of or in connection with:
- (a) any breach of any provisions of this schedule on the Customer's part, or on the part of any person for whom the Customer is responsible in terms of this Schedule 4;
 - (b) the Bank having to pay funds to any other person in settlement of an Order where the Customer has failed to provide the Bank with funds for that Order by the relevant due date;
 - (c) a failure to settle or pay any amount due in respect of a Transaction, Instruction, Order or Custody Securities; and/or
 - (d) any giving unauthorised or incorrect Instructions or Orders or failing to comply with the terms and conditions of this schedule.

- 3.2 The Customer will be liable for any or all loss suffered by the Bank arising from any security breach caused or permitted by the Customer or the Customer's failure to comply with this Schedule 4.
- 3.3 The obligations in this Clause 3 are continuing obligations, independent of the other obligations of the parties under this Schedule 4 and shall survive the termination of this Agreement. It is not necessary for a party to incur expense or make payment before enforcing this Clause 3.

4. The Bank's Obligations

- 4.1 The Bank may debit the Settlement Account with:
- (a) the amount(s) notified to it by the Bank as the amount(s) required to cover and settle the full value of any Order or Instruction placed or given by the Customer; and
 - (b) the Fees and any other costs associated with any Orders or Instructions placed or given by the Customer or with services provided by the Bank under or in connection with this Schedule 4, provided that if such amount to be debited would exceed the amount of any minimum balance or agreed overdraft on the Settlement Account, the Bank may decline to debit the Settlement Account and, if applicable, the Buy Order will not be settled until the Settlement Account has sufficient available cleared funds to meet such payments.
- 4.2 The Bank agrees to credit the Settlement Account with the amount(s) received from the Bank which the Bank advises are:
- (a) the proceeds of any Sell Order, less the Fees and any other costs and expenses associated with that Sell Order; and/or
 - (b) interest / profit, dividends, distributions or other amounts payable on or in connection with any Custody Securities, less the Fees and any other costs and expenses associated with such amounts.
- 4.3 The Bank may receive all or a share of the Fees (net of third party costs and charges). The Bank will collect the Fees and credit to the Bank its share of such Fees.

5. Sale Process

- 5.1 Orders:
- (a) Any failure by the Customer to settle a transaction by the due date may result in charges, the reversal of the Order at the Customer's expense and liability and/or the Customer being suspended from Trading on the Customer's Account.
 - (b) The Bank is under no obligation to accept any Order or Instruction from the Customer and reserves the absolute right to decline to act on the Customer's behalf in relation to any particular Order or Instruction without explanation or notice. Additionally, where the Bank believes an Order or Instruction to be ambiguous, incomplete or unclear, the Bank reserves the right not to act on that Order or Instruction. Where an Order or Instruction is accepted, the Bank will act only within the parameters of the Customer's Order or Instruction and the Customer agrees to pay all brokerage, fees, costs and charges relating to that Order or Instruction in accordance with Clauses 2 and 4.1 of this Schedule 4. All Orders shall remain until the Order is completed or cancelled by the Customer or the Bank.

- (c) When the Customer places a request to cancel an Order, the cancellation of that Order is not guaranteed. Orders will only be cancelled if the Customer's request is received during the trading hours or relevant "cut off" time in respect of any relevant exchange or market as advised by the Bank from time to time and matched up with the Order before the Order is executed. The Customer may not treat any Order as having been executed or cancelled until the Customer has received a transaction confirmation from the Bank via mail or other means (the choice of which shall be determined by the Bank at its sole discretion).
- (d) Any other regulatory body may withdraw an Order or the Bank may withdraw an Order from the Bank's Order processing system or via its Agent. While the Bank may endeavour to notify the Customer if an Order is withdrawn, the Bank does not guarantee that the Bank will be successful and accepts no responsibility for any expenses, costs or losses (including any consequential loss and any loss of income, profit, business or saving) suffered or incurred directly or indirectly by the Customer as a result of the withdrawal.
- (e) Instructions and Orders to purchase or sell Equity and/or Debt Securities shall be attended to by the Bank in the order in which they are received.
- (f) Unless the Customer instructs otherwise, the Bank will implement the Customer's Orders by placing them to the market in such manner as the Bank considers appropriate having exercised this discretion with reasonable care. This means the Bank may:
 - (i) accumulate or bundle Orders coming to market;
 - (ii) delay executing the Customer's Orders; or
 - (iii) delay Orders to satisfy crossings.
- (g) The Bank shall have no obligation or liability to the Customer, whatsoever and howsoever arising, for failing or being unable to comply with the terms of any Instructions of the Customer or inability to effect transactions at the prices or rates quoted at any specific time or any delay in executing the Customer's Orders save and except for damages suffered by the Customer arising directly from the Bank's wilful default or gross negligence.
- (h) The Customer may at any time give the Bank an Instruction either generally, or in relation to a particular transaction, as to how the Customer wishes an Order to be implemented.
- (i) In relation to Debt Securities, the Customer hereby acknowledges that:
 - (i) the Bank need only act on Orders from the Customer in respect of any part of or all of the Debt Securities held in the Customer's Account; and
 - (ii) the Bank is not obliged to purchase the Debt Securities back from the Customers.

5.2 Sale Proceeds:

- (a) Sale proceeds will be paid by direct credit to the Settlement Account.
- (b) Where the Customer submits a Sell Order with respect to Equity and/or Debt Securities quoted in a foreign currency, sale proceeds will be converted to the currency specified by the Bank in accordance with Clause 2.1(b) of this Schedule 4 and the conversion price will be shown on the Confirmation, unless the Customer has the Instructions and facilities in place and the Bank is willing and able to make payment in the foreign currency.

5.3 Purchase Process:

- (a) All Buy Orders will attract the brokerage whether fully or partially completed. Application Monies on rights transactions attract brokerage.

- (b) Where the Customer submits a Buy Order with respect to Equity and/or Debt Securities quoted in a foreign currency, the purchase price (and any Fees) will be converted from the currency of the Account to the relevant foreign currency in accordance with Clause 2.1(b) of this Schedule 4 and the conversion price will be shown on the Confirmation, unless the Customer has the Instructions and facilities in place and the Bank is willing and able to receive payment in the foreign currency.
- (c) When the Customer places a Buy Order, the Customer owes the Bank all settlement obligations in relation to the Buy Order directly to the Bank and the Customer must ensure that the amount of funds the Customer is at that time able to withdraw from the Settlement Account for the purposes of Trading is sufficient to cover the full value of the Order (including brokerage and other fees and charges). The Bank is under no obligation to check the balance of the Settlement Account and the Customer will remain liable for all settlement obligations arising out of Buy Orders whether or not the Customer had sufficient funds available in the Settlement Account to cover the Buy Order.
- (d) Where the Customer fails to meet a delivery obligation, the Bank shall have the right to pass on, and the Customer shall have the obligation to meet, any charge or levy incurred by the Bank as a result of the Customer's failure to make delivery of funds within the time needed to enable the Bank to meet the time limits imposed by the Participant Rules and/or the Clearing and Settlement Rules. Where the Customer has failed to settle with the Bank, the Parties shall have the rights and obligations imposed by the Participant Rules and/or the Clearing and Settlement Rules (or the settlement rules in the applicable market regarding cancellation of the transaction and mitigating any loss relating to that failure to settle). Any payment made by the Customer or on the Customer's Account to the Bank will be applied in the following order, that is to pay the Bank's brokerage and fees, then to pay any charges incurred in settling the purchase, including debt recovery and finally to pay the purchase price for the Equity and/or Debt Securities. Any profit made by the Bank exercising such rights will be retained by the Bank but any loss incurred will be to the Customer's Account.
- (e) Where any amount owing from the Customer to the Bank in relation to any purchase of Equity and/or Debt Securities remains unpaid after the purchase has settled, the Bank is authorised by the Customer to instruct the relevant securities registry to transfer the purchased Equity and/or Debt Securities from the Customer's holding/account to the Bank and the Bank will have the rights referred to Clause 5.3(d) of this Schedule 4 in respect of the Customer's failure to settle or complete a transaction or failure to pay any amount due in respect of an Instruction or Order.
- (f) In relation to Debt Securities, the Customer acknowledges that:
 - (i) a bid to subscribe and/or purchase Debt Securities by the Customer does not constitute an acceptance by the issuer of the Debt Security or the Bank for the Customer to subscribe or purchase the said Debt Security from the issuer. The Bank does not guarantee the success of the Customer's subscription/purchase for the whole or any part of the said Debt Security. In the event the issuer decides to allot/sell any lesser number of Debt Securities or not to allot or sell any of the said Debt Security to the Customer, the Customer agrees to accept any such decision of the issuer as final; and
 - (ii) in the event the Customer withdraws the Order during the bookbuilding period (i.e., before the relevant closing date for purchase or subscription as advised by the Bank or announced by the issuer of the Debt Security and before the relevant cut-off time for Order cancellation in the relevant Jurisdiction), the monies will be refunded to the Customer free of interest / profit.

5.4 Security Interest, Set Off and Lien:

- (a) Without prejudice to the Bank's rights under the Participant Rules, the Clearing and Settlement Rules, or other provisions of this Agreement, at law or otherwise, the Customer agrees that the Bank shall have a lien and charge over and security interest in all the Customer's present and future Equity and/or Debt Securities acquired and any other securities, documents and moneys from time to time held by or under the control of the Bank (but for the avoidance of doubt excluding any of the Customer's bank accounts with the Bank or funds standing to the credit of such bank accounts), as security for the due payment of all amounts (including interest and damages) now or at any time hereafter owing or payable by the Customer to the Bank on any account whatsoever.
- (b) The Customer undertakes to pay the Bank any outstanding Liabilities under this Agreement upon the Bank's written demand, failing which the Customer agrees and irrevocably authorises the Bank to use any amount held on the Customer's behalf, or sell any Equity and/or Debt Securities held on the Customer's behalf and use the proceeds, to repay / pay the Liabilities.

5.5 Confirmation:

- (a) The Bank will deliver to the Customer an advice or contract note or written Confirmation in respect of each transaction for the purchase or sale of Equity and/or Debt Securities effected on the Customer's behalf within the time limit prescribed by Applicable Laws.
- (b) Every Transaction indicated or referred to in any notice, statement, Confirmation or other electronic communication and every statement of account shall be deemed and treated as authorized and correct and as ratified and confirmed by the Customer unless the Bank receives from the Customer written notice to the contrary within fourteen (14) Business Days after the date after such notice, statement, confirmation or other communication is deemed to have been received by the Customer. The Customer shall not treat the Bank's confirmation telephone call as final notification or confirmation of the transaction.

6. Accrued Interest / Profit (Debt Securities)

- 6.1 All Buy and Sell Orders involving Debt Securities will include accrued interest / profit, which is the interest / profit that is earned from the last coupon payment to the date of buying or selling the Debt Security.

7. Limitation of the Bank's Liability

- 7.1 Placing an Order with or giving Instructions to the Bank does not guarantee acceptance of the Order or Instruction or execution of the Order, and the Customer agrees that the Bank shall not be responsible or liable for any expenses, costs, losses, damages or claims that result where any Order is not executed or an Order is cancelled or Instructions are not accepted.

8. Agents

- 8.1 The Bank may appoint any other person as its Agent to perform its obligations, or exercise any of its rights, under this Schedule 4.
- 8.2 The Bank shall exercise reasonable care in the selection of such person, and save and except for damages arising directly from the Bank's gross negligence or wilful default, neither the Bank nor any of its employees, officers or directors are liable to the Customer for the solvency, acts or omissions of any Agent, but the Bank will make available to the Customer, when and to the extent reasonably so requested, any rights that the Bank may have against such Agent.

9. Rights to Force Sell

- 9.1 The Customer understands that if it does not pay for any Equity and/or Debt Securities which it purchases by the due date of the purchase transaction, the Bank has the right to force sell any or all of these Equity and/or Debt Securities. The Bank may (without prejudice to its rights under this Schedule 4) but shall not be obliged to exercise this right on any day after the day on which the right to force sell first arose. The Bank will not be liable to the Customer for any loss suffered by the Customer as a result of any fall in the market price of the Equity and/or Debt Securities between the time the right to force sell arose and the time it actually sells the Equity and/or Debt Securities.

10. Buying-In

- 10.1 Before placing a Sell Order, the Customer shall ensure that the relevant Equity and/or Debt Securities are available for delivery and will constitute good delivery thereof on the settlement date of the transaction. If delivery of the Equity and/or Debt Securities is not made on the settlement date, the Bank shall have the right to buy-in immediately and bill the Customer for the difference. The Bank will not be liable to the Customer for any loss suffered by the Customer as a result of any rise in the market price of the Equity and/or Debt Securities between the time the right to buy-in arose and the time it actually buys the Equity and/or Debt Securities.

11. Transaction Limits and Restrictions

- 11.1 The Bank may impose upon the Customer any position or transaction limits, any trading or transaction restrictions or minimum holding requirement in Equity and/or Debt Securities. Such limits may include the minimum or maximum sizes for transactions.
- 11.2 The Bank may vary the position or transaction limits, any trading or transaction restrictions or minimum holding requirements with prior written notice to the Customer. No previous limit or restriction shall set a precedent or bind the Bank.
- 11.3 The Customer shall not exceed any position or transaction limits, or breach any trading or transaction restrictions imposed by the Bank in accordance with this Schedule 4.

12. Early Termination (Debt Securities)

- 12.1 As Debt Securities are mainly for medium and long-term investment, the Customer should be prepared to invest his/her funds in the Debt Security for the full investment tenor. Any redemption prior to the maturity date of the Debt Security (unless called by the issuer of the Debt Security) is subject to marked-to-market cost and may result in the Customer losing part of or all of the principal investment amount.
- 12.2 The Customer is required to enquire from the Bank on the marked-to-market cost before confirming the Early Termination request. Once the marked-to-market cost is known, confirmation on the Early Termination is required from the Customer on the same day the request is received before the relevant cut-off time as advised by the Bank. If the Customer is unable to confirm the Early Termination before the cut-off time, a revised marked-to-market cost is to be obtained from the Bank on the following Business Day. The Customer is required to present such relevant documents as prescribed by the Bank in order to complete the Early Termination. The Early Termination amount will be credited into the Customer's Settlement Account within three (3) Business Days after the Early Termination is effected.

PART D: RISK DISCLOSURE (ALL SECURITIES)

13. Preamble

- 13.1 Customers who transact in Equity and/ or Debt Securities with or through the Bank should be aware of the risks which may be involved in such transactions. The objective of these disclosures are to highlight the risks pertinent to the transactions in this particular product to assist the Customer in making an informed assessment of the suitability of the product to their financial resources, experience, investment needs and risk profile prior to transacting. The risk of loss, in all instances, may be substantial.
- 13.2 The disclosures cannot be used and are not sufficient to explain all the risks and other significant aspects of trading in Equity and/or Debt Securities. The Customer should therefore fully understand the nature of the transaction, the nature and scope of the contractual relationship between the Customer and the Bank, the legal terms and conditions in the transaction documents, the extent of the Customer's risk exposure and the potential losses that can be incurred, and the tax, accounting and regulatory treatment of the product. The disclosures cannot be construed as financial advice provided by the Bank. Instead, the Customer should seek advice from a professional adviser prior to entering into transactions if the Customer has any doubts regarding any aspect of the product/transaction.
- 13.3 Equity and/or Debt Securities are not treated as bank deposits for the purposes of deposit insurance, and will not be subject to deposit insurance protection in the jurisdictions in which they are offered.

14. Price Risk

- 14.1 Equity and/or Debt Securities can be volatile instruments and may be subject to considerable fluctuations in value. The value of an Equity and/or Debt Security may fall as rapidly as it may rise due to numerous factors, including, but not limited to systematic risks, variations in the frequency and magnitude of changes in interest / profit rates, inflation outlook (and the price/level of any underlying reference instrument to which the security relates (e.g., other securities, commodities, funds, rates and/or indices)).

15. Credit Risk

- 15.1 Should the Bank or counterparty in a trade become unable to meet its financial obligations, there is a possibility that the investment in question may lose its value and the associated trading costs and profits may not be recoverable. The Customer should be aware that in making any investment, the Customer is potentially subject to the credit risk of the Bank or the counterparty, and their abilities to meet their respective financial liabilities in respect of the investment.

16. Risk of Foreign Markets

- 16.1 Foreign markets may involve different risks to the markets in the Customer's jurisdiction. For example, investments made in an asset or issued by a party subject to foreign laws, receipt of profits and/or recovery of the sums invested may be reduced, delayed or prevented by measures imposed by foreign governments or other official bodies. Other risks include lower levels of investor protection measures and disclosure standards in foreign countries. In some countries, these risks will be greater than in others, and the local regulatory authority may not be able to compel the enforcement of the laws and rules of other jurisdictions where transactions have been effected. The Customer should be familiar with the rules governing transactions in foreign markets prior to investing in such markets.
- 16.2 In some countries, legal concepts which are practiced in mature legal systems may not be in place or may have yet to be tested in courts. This would make it more difficult to predict with a degree of certainty the outcome of judicial proceedings or even the quantum of damages which may be awarded following a successful claim.

17. “Stop-Loss” Limits and Orders May Not Limit Loss

17.1 The Customer may place a “stop-loss” order with the Bank, whereby the Bank is instructed and authorised to close out relevant open positions without further notice as and when the mark-to-market loss on such open positions exceeds the pre-agreed levels i.e., the “stop-loss” limit. Placing “stop-loss” orders will not necessarily limit the Customer’s losses to the intended amounts as market conditions may make it difficult or even impossible to execute such orders. The Bank does not accept liability for the non-execution of a “stop-loss” order and execution of such orders is strictly on the basis that the Customer release the Bank from any liabilities and authorize the Bank, in such circumstances, to execute such order at such rate and in such manner as the Bank may deem appropriate.

18. Liquidity Risk

18.1 Under certain market conditions, it may be difficult or impossible to sell a security. This can occur, for example, when the market makes a "limit move" or trading is suspended by the relevant exchange, in addition, there may not be a ready market for certain investments or market traders may not be prepared to deal in certain investments leading to difficulties in liquidation.

19. Foreign-Exchange Risk

19.1 The Customer should be aware that the profit or loss in transactions in foreign currency-denominated contracts (whether they are traded in the Customer’s or another jurisdiction) will be affected by fluctuations in currency rates where there is a need to convert from the currency denomination of the contract to another currency. The potential for profit or loss from transactions on foreign markets or in foreign currency-denominated contracts will be affected by fluctuations in foreign exchange rates.

20. Legal Risk

20.1 In making any investment through the Bank, the Customer should ensure that it is not in breach of any laws, regulations, contractual or other legal limitations that would otherwise prevent the Customer from entering into such investment. The Customer should be aware that the Bank is, in respect of any investment, subject to applicable laws, regulations and guidelines issued by regulatory authorities in the relevant Jurisdiction. In the event of any change in such laws, regulations or guidelines, the Bank may be required to alter some or all of the terms and conditions of the investment or forced to impose early termination on the Customer whereby the amount repayable to the Customer shall be determined by the Bank in good faith.

21. Tax Risk

21.1 Income or profit from any investments made by the Customer may be subject to withholding tax, capital gains tax or other taxes imposed by the country in which the investment was made or issued. Taxation may lead to a reduction in principal amounts and/or profit.

22. Operational Risk

22.1 The Customer’s funds may not move instantly to the intended destination with each instruction to the Bank. This arises as a result of the Bank’s operating hours and other system-related factors. Therefore, there may be mismatches or delays in the timing of cash flows due from or to counterparties in investment transactions which may lead to the Customer not having sufficient cash available to fund outstanding obligations.

23. Risks of Electronic Trading

23.1 For Equity and/or Debt Securities which are traded on exchanges, disruption of the normal market operation or conditions of such exchanges and/or the rules of operation of such exchanges may increase the risk of loss by making it difficult or impossible to close out or liquidate positions. This may occur, for example, at times of rapid price movement if the price rises or falls in one trading session to such an extent that under the rules of the relevant exchange trading is suspended or restricted.

23.2 Trading on a particular electronic trading system may differ from trading on other electronic trading systems. If the Customer undertakes transactions on an electronic trading system, the Customer will be exposed to risks associated with the system including the failure of hardware and software. The result of any system failure may be that the Customer's order is either not executed according to the Customer's instructions or is not executed at all, which may lead to losses to the Customer. It is likely that such losses will not be recoverable from the relevant exchange as the rules of the relevant exchanges may exempt them from liabilities.

24. Risk of Not Having Clearing House Protection

24.1 On many exchanges, the performance of a transaction by the Bank (or a third party with whom the Bank is dealing on the Customer's behalf) is "guaranteed" by the exchange or its clearing house. However, this guarantee is unlikely in most circumstances to cover the Customer, and, if it does not, it will not protect the Customer if the Bank or another party defaults on its obligations to the Customer. On request, the Bank will explain any protection provided under an exchange or clearing house guarantee applicable to any on-exchange transaction in which the Customer is dealing.

25. Correspondent Broker Risk

25.1 Transactions on overseas exchanges or overseas markets are generally effected by the Bank through the use of foreign brokers who have trading and/or clearing rights on those exchanges. All transactions that are executed upon the Customer's instructions with such counterparties and correspondent brokers are dependent on their respective due performance of their obligations. The insolvency or default of such counterparties and correspondent brokers may lead to positions being liquidated or closed out without the Customer's consent and/or may result in difficulties in recovering the Customer's money and assets held overseas.

PART E: RISK DISCLOSURE (DEBT SECURITIES)

26. Interest / Profit Rate Risk

26.1 Changes in interest / profit rates during the term of any Debt Security may affect the market value of the debt security prior to the maturity date.

27. Sovereign Risk

27.1 Payments in relation to Debt Securities that are issued by state governments may be affected by economic and political events in such states. The occurrence of a sovereign risk event could result in the loss of all or a portion of the principal amount invested.

28. Default Risk

28.1 Debt Securities are subject to default risk, which is the risk that an issuer of Debt Securities fails to meet its debt obligations. In such circumstances the entire investment in a Debt Security may become worthless.

29. Liquidity risk

29.1 The risk that the security/instrument invested in cannot be readily sold and converted into cash. This can occur when trading volume for the security is low and/or when there is a lack of demand for the security.

30. Loan financing risk

- 30.1 An investor who intends to purchase security using borrowed/financed monies and pledging those security as collateral for the borrowed/financed monies should be aware that if the price of the security falls below the borrowed/financed amount, the lender may require the investor to provide additional forms of collaterals or pay additional amounts on top of the investor normal instalment.

31. Currency risk

- 31.1 Currency risk is also known as foreign exchange risk. It is the risk associated with investments denominated in foreign currencies. When the foreign currencies fluctuate in an unfavourable movement against the local currency, the investments will face currency losses in addition to the capital gain/losses.

32. Country risk

- 32.1 The foreign investment of a Fund may be affected by risks specific to the country which it invests. Such risks include changes in a country's economic fundamentals, social and political stability, currency movements and foreign investment policies etc.

33. Regulatory risk

- 33.1 The investments of the Fund would be exposed to changes in the laws and regulations in the countries the Fund is invested in. These regulatory changes pose a risk to the Fund as it may materially impact the investments of the Fund.
